Public Transportation Safety Certification Training Program

FTA published updates to the Public Transportation Safety Certification Training Program regulation on August 14, 2024 to streamline communication and administrative processes and clarify voluntary participation and recertification requirements. The training program maintains a uniform safety training curriculum and minimum requirements for rail transit safety personnel.

Additional Resources